Aviation Fabricators, Central Airmotive and Golden Valley Aviation
To Do Business As AvFab

Clinton, MO. – December 17, 2001 – Aviation Fabricators, an FAA-PMA facility specializing in the production of interior parts; Central Airmotive, an OEM supplier of interior parts and components for business class aircraft; and Golden Valley Aviation, a Certified Repair Station, will all do business under the name AvFab. The integration of these organizations will simplify operations by giving consumers one easily recognizable identity that represents the high-quality services from each organization. Now consumers need only look for the AvFab name for complete interior services.

Aviation Fabricators was founded in 1987 and has since built a reputation by reducing industry-standard lead times on the design and production of custom aircraft interior products, specifically couches and seats or seat modifications for aircraft ranging from Cessna 400s to Gulfstream IVs.

Central Airmotive Inc. has specialized in supplying OEM interior parts for business class aircraft since 1984. A comprehensive 30,000 square foot inventory of thousands of seats, divans, tables and other interior components has made Central Airmotive a true resource to the aviation community.

Golden Valley Aviation, recently integrated with Aviation Fabricators, has been a Certified Repair Station (CRS# GVRR304K) since 1989 with a focus on corporate interior parts and repairs. From coffee containers to couches and seats, repairs and modifications are completed on site, all with unprecedented lead times.
